Policy decisions at October 29 FOMC

“The Committee judges that there has been substantial improvement in the outlook for the labor market since the inception of its asset purchase program. Accordingly, the Committee decided to conclude its asset purchase program this month.”

“The Committee anticipates…that it likely will be appropriate to maintain the current target range for the federal funds rate for a considerable time following the end of its asset purchase program this month, especially if projected inflation continues to run below the Committee’s 2 percent longer-run goal.”
